Rockies Baseball Skills Challenge this Saturday at Broadview Park

June 6, 2017 – (Greeley, CO) – Each year the Culture, Parks and Recreation Department with the City of Greeley in conjunction with the Colorado Rockies host the Rockies/CPRA Baseball Skills Challenge. Area youth, both boys and girls, age 6-13 (as of December 31, 2017) will have the opportunity to showcase their talents in three baseball skills: running, throwing and batting demonstrating their abilities with scores based on distance, speed and accuracy. This year's event will be held Saturday, June 10 at Broadview Park, located at 600 28th Avenue in Greeley, between 10am and 12pm and is free and open to anyone to attend.

Those individuals that place in their age group for each event will go on to compete at Sectionals later this summer. The finalists from Sectionals will advance to the State Championship. All State qualifiers will be invited to attend a Colorado Rockies game at Coors Field. The Rockies/CPRA Baseball Skills Challenge is a youth program of the Colorado Parks and Recreation Association supported by the Colorado Rockies baseball club. For more information, call Morgan Thompson, Recreation Coordinator, at 970-350-9428.
